

Living Kidney Donors Network & the PKD Foundation

Invites those in need or will need a kidney transplant
to attend a hands-on Workshop

Having Your Donor Find YOU!

Thursday April 13, 2017

6:00 – 8:30 PM

(Please arrive 15 minutes earlier to sign-in)

CLASS SIZE IS LIMITED – YOU MUST RSVP

Location: Charles River Community Health
495 Western Avenue Brighton, MA 02135

The LKDN with the support of the PKD Foundation have teamed up to bring you an important educational and communications training workshop.

This workshop educates people who need, or will need a kidney transplant so they understand the facts about living donation and have the skills to effectively communicate the information to others. A kidney from a living donor lasts on average twice as long as one from a deceased donor. If you are apprehensive about talking to others about your situation, or would like to learn more about pursuing a living donor kidney transplant, this workshop is for you!

If a family member or friend wants to help you spread the word about your situation, you could ask them to attend the workshop with you.

You will leave the workshop with a plan that will start you on the path to a successful living kidney transplant experience.

This is a complimentary class offered by LKDN and supported by PKD Foundation. The workshop is taught by transplant recipients and living donors who bring practical applications to this critical subject.

Class size is limited so please register by sending an email to: workshop@LKDN.org and indicate your interest in attending and the number of reservations needed.
